The participation of Traditional Healers to stop TB in rural areas has been ensured by implementing ‘Training of Traditional Healers in Unnao’ under Eli Lilly Project

Intervention3. Follow up visits were conducted by Ms Vandana Mishra, Program Coordinator during the month of April 2012. She met with about 35 Traditional Healers in the project area of Block- Nawabganj, district- Unnao.

During the interaction, she has reminded the concept and objectives of Traditional Healers and kept on convincing them to send more suspected TB patients to the DMC- Nawabganj, district- Unnao. They have also been motivated to keep on follow up of the TB patients in their area to continue the treatment till the completion of its full course of treatment.

This is suggested to conduct Re-sensitisation Program of Traditional Healers to keep up their active involvement with the project. It was scheduled to be conducted in the month of January, 2012 as per the work plan.

The contribution of Traditional Healers was found satisfactory and encouraging. The total referral of TB suspect found increased remarkably. The regular follow up and meeting of Traditional Healers during the month seems useful for the project.
